January 2016, Edition

Dear Researchers,

Intellectuals, Teachers and Thinkers, I, on behalf of the August Advisory and Editorial Board of IJHEPS and on my personal behalf, extend my heartfelt welcome to you all. IJHEPS returns to the research and innovation canvas with its edition of January 2016, once again. It gives us immense pleasure to share with you that the journey we started six years back has added many golden feathers and accolades to its success story and it could be only possible because of sheer research reasoning and zeal for innovation amongst you. In the span of six years of its literary learning, IJHEPS has many milestones achieved to its credit. Naming a few, the Impact Factor of the Journal has been increased from 2.899 to 3.491 by IIFS; it has also received SOI License Number (1.16/ijheps); IJHEPS has been given indexing in Research ID by Thomson and Reuters; it has also received a special mention in International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (USA). Along with this, we have published papers from the premier institutions existing all across the globe. It is a delightful experience to share with you that IJHEPS has been affiliated to more than 40 libraries of the different International institutions and has been indexed by hundred plus indexing bodies all around. To ensure the genuine efforts of the researchers, the Journal strictly follows the peer review process and has strong software check for plagiarism. The authenticity and scholarship of the journal has not only been recognized by the indexing bodies but by the researchers too and it has resulted into receiving papers for this issue from India to Egypt, Pakistan to Uzbekistan, and from Nigeria to Germany. This overwhelming response for IJHEPS ignites me to invite your intense research and innovation for the forthcoming issue so that we could make our contribution for the holistic development of human existence.

Yours truly,

Major General Gurdeep Singh Narang
